Batch Replacer for Microsoft Excel is a plugin for Microsoft Excel. Review Batch Replacer for MS Excel and enrichment of microcystin-LR and nodularin using molecularly imprinted polymers. Two molecularly imprinted polymers (MIPs) were prepared by precipitation polymerization using microcystin-LR (MC-LR) and nodularin as the template and methacrylic acid as the functional monomer. The results of the binding experiment showed that the MIPs had a binding capacity of 1016 and 810 microg/mL for MC-LR and nodularin, respectively, much higher than that of the non-imprinted polymer. Adsorption equilibrium and kinetics were investigated. The affinity of the imprinted polymers for MC-LR and nodularin was studied by the competitive binding experiment using the

---

MIPs. MC-LR and nodularin adsorbed on the MIPs were removed from aqueous solution with apparent imprinting factors of 3.63 and 5.09, respectively. After desorption, MC-LR and nodularin were re-extracted with 1% methanol. Recoveries of 89% and 94% were obtained for MC-LR and nodularin, respectively, suggesting that the proposed adsorption method is potentially useful for the extraction of microcystins and nodularins from water samples.

Q: Serialize HashMap, List, LinkedList and ArrayList to String with Gson I need to serialize/deserialize the below classes to string with gson. I am using Java. Here are the classes:

public class A { private String name; private Map params = new HashMap(); } public class B { private A a; private List args; } public class C { private B b;
    private List args; } public class D { private C c; } Now I need to serialize/deserialize the classes to a string.

Quickly access and edit macros by name, location or topic. Every macro consists of code that performs a specific task when activated. You can use macros to automate the repetitive tasks of your daily work. Macros are activated by a shortcut key or a click. If you want, you can create your own macros and use them for application control or even as a calculator. Macros are accessible through the application's main interface.

Supported languages: The Language & Fonts Support plugin is an integral part of Useful File Utilities. It enables you to choose your favorite text and font from an additional list of possibilities. As you do not see any more texts or fonts than in the original list, you can easily find the right one for your needs, even if they are written in another language or simply a different font. You can choose from various languages and fonts, such as Spanish, French, German, English, Hebrew, Arabic, and even various symbols. Simple setup and user interface The plugin can be activated from the context menu of the main window. It searches for the installed fonts and appears in the list of available ones. The original list can be opened for more flexibility, or the application can create a new one with additional languages or fonts. You can also disable the complete Language & Fonts Support plugin if you want, in which case only the top-level language support and the main window will be enabled. Macro overview The Macro overview shows you all available macros on the current file or clipboard, in a separate window. Each of them can be activated directly from the Plugin Control panel (View->Plugin Control), so you don't have to browse through the system registry.

You can delete, edit, or duplicate existing macros by using the context menu of the window. You can also export your macros to a macro file. Furthermore, you can search for text by name or path, choose a specific macro or a group of macros, or include a group in your export. Macro code can be copied and pasted to the Clipboard, which will activate the relevant macro.

Evaluation and conclusion In our tests, Language & Fonts

Support worked fine. It remained stable throughout the runtime in our tests, without causing it to hang, crash or indicate errors.

Furthermore, the plugin was reliable in practice, as it was able to display, handle and apply macros in various files without any problems.

Batch Replacer for MS Excel is a plugin specially designed for Useful File Utilities, which implements multi-string replacement capabilities for Microsoft Excel files, enabling you to easily search and replace key words or phrases. Simple setup and interface Provided that you have the file manager installed, Batch Replacer for MS Excel gets unpacked swiftly and effortlessly. It can be called for one or more selected Excel spreadsheets. The main configuration window has a simple design and neatly organized structure, where you can use the file browser to find and locate a translation table, edit its properties, or create a new one on the spot. Search and replace text in spreadsheets It can be asked to look up information in table values while taking into account or excluding case sensitive mode, along with whole cells and words. If you want to perform searches only, it's possible to disable the replacement action. Search results reveal the name, original and new size, changed size, amount and status of each file, in addition to total items, original and new size, together with the modified size when it comes to all unchanged, successful, failed and total files. Configure advanced options You can fiddle with the text replacement formatting, such as setting the same name, size, color, bold, italic and underline style of font, or the same highlight (only if replacing whole cells). The original file can be modified after creating a backup, or the application can create a new file to leave the original one untouched. Any audio track from the local disk can be assigned to play as an alert on task completion.

Evaluation and conclusion It remained stable throughout the file manager's runtime in our tests, without causing it to hang, crash or indicate errors. Search and replace operations were carried out fast, while system resources usage was minimal. Thanks to its practical options, Batch Replacer for MS Excel should meet the requirements of many users looking to handle Excel spreadsheets easier when resorting to Useful File Utilities.
